Class Prophecy

Our class of 1950 started their careers with a bright and shiny new half-century. What have ten years done to tarnish or polish this endowment?

Fulfilling a pact made by the Senior Class of 1950 to discover each others fate, thirty-five of us met at the designated place, a coal-barge headed for the Rock of Gibraltor on May 26, 1960.

Those unable to attend included:

Eugene Baedke, noted anthropologist, who at the time was on a world tour in search of the lost chord and the missing link.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Reynolds were occupied at the time as Mr. Reynolds was rebuilding the Brooklyn Bridge which collapsed under the weight of Leroy Skow's moving vans. Leroy is serving a ten year jail sentence for the offense. Mrs. Reynolds was occupied with household duties and the care of their five children.

The rest of our classmates met at the port of New York and boarded the barge. Ten years had done a lot to change many of our friends. These are some of the results over a ten year period.

Mrs. Darrel Malm, the former Doris Baxter, whose husband is now general manager of the Emmetsburg Rendering Works, distributed samples of the new perfume she is now endorsing.

Lois Sandvig, noted missionary and theologist, visited her old classmates until she had to meet necessary travel requirements to journey to the heart of Africa to convert the natives there. Lois reports that they just eat up religion. She is the fourth missionary to go there in four months.

Ione Tonderum told us that she has won a reputation as Graettinger's most skillful and reliable blacksmith. Recently she has received an award from Ames College for shoeing the most horses in a single year.

Mr. and Mrs. Norris Rierson, Mrs. Rierson being the former Betty Westergard, are prosperous mid-western farmers, owning a Cadillac and jet propelled 1960 Buick.

Shirley Young is now a stewardess on the Comet Line which attempted the first space trip to the moon. Shirley assured us the trip was a success, but she prefers the U.S. to the moon.

Jack Platter has risen from garbage collector to night watchman in Graettinger.

Josephine Fitzpatrick is the owner of an antique shop featuring Beryl Starkey and his Chrysler.

Mavis Knutsen has recently achieved great fame as a model. Mavis is now posing for Old Dutch Cleanser advertisements.

Robert Thomsen having failed his course in Engineering has taken up peddling patent medicine, and is eluding the wiles of Don and Ron Oleson, Policemen.

Delores Fisher and Verna Mammen have applied for positions scrubbing submarine decks in the U.S. Navy, which claims Floyd Chrestiansen as rear admiral..

Don Iverson has been crowned King of the Indianapolis Speedway. He has had only one crash in these past ten years. This brings his total up to two.

Maynard Holland, we find, is giving dancing lessons in the South Pacific Islands, and here, also we find Catherine King trying to sell a ducky blue battleship to the King of Arabia.

Gwen McWilliams, world famous scientist, is attempting to prove "Darwin's Theory". So far she has been doing very well.

Donna J. Flannegan after ten years has graduated from Nurse's Training and has married one of the high ranking brain specialists from Iowa University. The couple are leaving for Washington D.C. very soon where they will begin work in their clinic for under-privileged Chinese boys.

Avery Bonstead after ten years of courtship with the same girl has given up and is now general manager of the Disabled Bachelor's Apartments with Arvid Peterson and Richard Jensen as honorary members.

Mary Hanson with her family of ten was having an extremely difficult time on board the barge with her triplets, Hank, Frank, and I ank, who were amusing themselves by hanging out head first from the port-holes.

Joan Christiansen is receiving laurels as a world renowned soprano. In her latest stage success, she ably portrayed the role of Carmen.

Frederick Wilken has just returned from the dark continent of Africa where he is operating a prosperous date bureau for the not-so-intelligent natives. He is doing a thriving business. By the way, Fred has married a charming African girl and has come into quite a fortune from her father.

James Voigt has just received his bachelor's degree in Girlology at Iowa University. He plans to put his knowledge into practice very soon.

LaDon Zitterick, now known to her friends as Babetta Laleeta is an accomplished bubble dancer at the bull fights in South America.

Janet Marxen was a dancer until she broke her leg. Now, she sells shoestrings on a street corner in New York City.

Shirley Rasmussen has entered the winning horse in the Kentucky Derby for the last three years. With her winnings Shirley is planning to set up a horse ranch in Colorado and lasso a cowboy for a husband.

Mary Lou Marine and Myrtle Simonsen have set up a Matrimonial Bureau. They have helped many people to secure a wife or husband.

Catherine Elsenbast is now employed in television singing happily and with great feeling in a Lifebuoy Quartet.

Mary Hash, the former Mary Wolf, has taken her husband to Des Moines where they have set up a restaurant featuring "Hash's special hash".

Now that the class of '50 has seen each other, we realize that each one of us has made a place for ourselves in the world. As our barge hit the icy waters of Gibraltar, we agreed to hold an Alumni banquet in another ten years to see what another ten years will do for us.

Class History

In September, 1946, forty-six Freshmen started their cruise up the river with their main objective being to reach its mouth, or graduation, by May, 1950.

The crew was composed of Eugene Baedke, Avery Bonstead, Elaine Brobst, Floyd Chrestianson, Joan Christianson, Agnes Dalen, Catherine Elsenbast, Delores Fisher, Josephine Fitzpatrick, Donna Jean Flannegan, Maynard Holland, Donald Iverson, Richard Jensen, Catherine King, Mary Kirkegaard, Mavis Knutsen, Vera Mammen, Mary Lou Marine, Janet Marxen, Marlene McDonald, Patrick McDonald, Gene McDonald, Gwendolyn McWilliams, Duane Munson, Donald Oleson, Ronald Olson, Arvid Peterson, Jack Platter, Shirley Rasmussen, John Reynolds, Norris Rierson, Lois Sandvig, Richard Schaney, Myrtle Simonsen, LeRoy Skow, Beryl Starkey, Robert Thomsen, Ione Tonderum, James Voigt, Kenneth Vollmert, Edna Westergard, Betty Westergard, Donald Westfall, Mary Wolfe, Shirley Young, and LaDon Zitterick.

The fall of 1947 found that seven of them had been taken by the current and were no longer with us. They were Agnes Dalen, Gene McDonald, Duane Munson, John Reynolds, Richard Schaney, Kenneth Vollmert, and Edna Westergard. Two new members, Fred Wilken, and Merle Meyers were added to our crew.

When our cruise was half completed, the fall of 1948 found that three more of our loyal crew members had left us. They were Marlene McDonald, Patrick McDonald, and Donald Westfall. Two crew members had become tired of their names, so they changed them from Elaine Brobst to Elaine Reynolds, and from Mary Kirkegaard to Mary Hanson, respectively. Also we found that three seamen had joined us. They were Doris Baxter, Bill Reynolds, and Bob Gile. There were now forty-one in the crew to start the second half of our cruise.

Our last stretch, which began in September, 1949, found that our crew had not changed much, only that Bob Gile and Merle Meyers had gone and another one of our crew members changed her name from Mary Wolfe to Mary Hash.

And so ends the voyage which we began hopefully four years ago. In spite of the storms and tempests, we have successfully completed our journey and are now ready to take our places in the big, wide world.

A Typical Day of a G. H. S. Senior

8:21 Lois struggles out of bed.

8:25 We are the first bus in this morning!

8:30 Walt finally condescends to ring the bell.

8:31 A mad rush in the girls' lab.

8:55 "Well, it's five to, I guess we'd better go up."

9:05 Mr Manchester, "SOCIOLOGY CLASS", "You have wasted 342 minutes and the taxpayers money!"

9:11 Avery comes in late for class.

9:42 Mr. Manchester is still conducting Sociology class.

9:43 Physics: Ye Gads, another test and I haven't even read it", quote Betty.

9:45 Farm Management: Jim falls asleep in class after seeing "Francis" with Mavis K. Hmm!

10:20 Miss Shannon, "You seventeen people in Speech class are the worst in H.S., Quite a compliment."

11:10 Study Hall: Mr. Smith: "If you don't quiet down you'll have to sit here until 10 after 12."

12:01 Hurry up or they'll beat us down to lunch. Oh! look at that long line agair

12:30 Ice cream cones, cokes, candy bars and gum. Now who can we ride up to school with.

12:57 Crowded mirrors for the beauty rush. Move over or we'll be late for shorthand.

1:20 Bob T. in Manual Arts class, "Oh, Mr. Peterson, there goes another saw!"

1:40 In the study hall - Jack - "Now who can I bother next?"

2:22 "How long does it take you to quiet down in here." English class.

3:00 No baseball game? Well what else can I go to?

3:57 The longest hour of the day. Won't the bell ever ring.

4:00 Mad rush for the bus.

4:10 Walt hurriedly sweeps the floor!!

4:50 Everyone is gone. Now the place is turned over to the mice.

Class Will

We, the members of the Senior Class of 1950, being of sound minds, do make this our last will and testament, on this twenty-second day of May.

To any unlucky Junior who happens to get stuck with them, Eugene Baedke wills his books.

Doris Baxter wills her careful driving ability to Mary Lou Thompson.

Avery Bonstead wills his ability to always fall asleep in English class to Jean Fodge.

To Joe Anderson, Floyd Chrestiansen wills his quiet ways.

Joan Christiansen wills her calm manner to Dolores Jesperson.

Cathrine Elsenbast leaves her pretty smile to Ipana Toothpaste.

Delores Fisher and Verna Mammen will all their "out-of-town" boy friends to Francis Mahan, and Helen Jean Paulsen.

To Bettie Marie Martinson, Josephine Fitzpatrick leaves her quietness in study hall.

Donna Jean Flannegan wills her "giggles" to the Peton twins.

To all the underclass girls, Mary Hanson and Mary Hash leave their ability to get a husband.

Maynard Holland leaves his "Romeo Technique" to the green Freshmen boys.

Donald Iverson wills his rosy complexion to Lady Esther.

To Eldon Zitterich, Richard Jensen wills his great hieght.

"Katie King wills her place on the basketball squad to Joyce Rierson.

Mavis Knutsen wills her forgetfulness and flighty ways to Twila Jean Nelson.

Mary Marine wills her place in band to Cynthia Vasey.

Janet Marxen leaves her old time dancing ability at the Woodcliff to Dale Duhn.

When Gwen McWilliams starts to College, she wills Darwin to anyone who can keep up the pace.

Donald Olsen wills his blond hair to Frankie King.

Ronald Olsen wills his abbreviated height to Donald Bisgard.

To Tom Schany, Arvid Peterson leaves his studiousness.

Jack Platter wills his "Toni" to Jim Wolfe.

Shirley Rasmussen wills her ambition to Alberta Hocket.

Mr. and Mrs. William Reynolds will Mark's diapers to anyone who needs them.

Norris Rierson leaves his neat appearance to Norman Bisgard.

Lois Sandvig wills her "love for a good old time" to Francis Johnson.

Myrtle Simonsen wills her spot light position on "Jam For Supper to Helen Baumgartner.

LeRoy Skow wills his Physics book to some unlucky Junior.

To Bernard Elsenbast, Beryl Starkey leaves his Chrysler.

Bob Thomsen wills his witty remarks and sense of humor to Lloyd McCombs.

Ione Tonderum wills her yodeling and hillbilly songs to Mary Bonnie Cole.

Jim Voigt leaves the Esterville girls to anyone who has the cash to take them out.

Betty Westergard leaves her "love for a good old argument" to Lois Jacobsen.

Fred Wilken leaves his bass horn to "The Hour of Charm".

To Shirley Murray, Shirley Young wills her good old times at the Skyline.

LaDon Zitterick wills her ability to get the family car to Dora Voigt.

Cherish all your happy moments, they make a fine cushion for old age.

The only way on earth to multiply happiness is to divide it.

A postman starting up a walk to a house was met by a large dog growling ferociously. The man hesitated.

"It's all right," called the lady of the house, "he's vaccinated."

Boss: "You're an hour late getting home with those mules, Avery."
Avery: "I know it. You see, I picked up the Reverend on the way home, and from there on the mules couldn't understand a word I said."

Jean answering telephone: "Gayle isn't in just now. This is her one hundred eight pound, five foot four, hazel-eyed, brunette sister."

Donna Jean to another young nurse in the maternity ward: "We're just in the wrong place to meet eligible men, that's all!"

Catherine: "You don't have time to join a club. You see Darwin seven times a week."
Gwen: "I am stopping that. I'm going to see him only six nights a week. I want to play hard to get.

I sat down in the study hall, half inclined to shirk, I looked at Mr. Jones, he looked at me, and I--well, I got to work.

Some people stand for nothing because they fall for everything.

Just think how happy you'd be if you lost everything you have right now--and then got it back again.

Love has the power of making you believe what you would normally treat with the deepest suspicion.

A man who has his initials on his pajamas must be uncertain of himself. Surely you should know who you are at bed time.

If you are ever in doubt as to whether you should kiss a pretty girl, always give her the benefit of the doubt.

There is a lot to say in her favor, but the other is more interesting.

Girls' Basketball

The girls' basketball team played some of the best teams in the Northwest. With five wins and sixteen losses, the team showed much progress as the year rolled on.

The basketball clinic was held in Gruver. Our girls gave a warm up drill in the afternoon.

Gayle Graettinger got honorable mention for the Star, Graettinger is proud of her.

Graettinger was very fortunate in both the County tournament and the Sectional tournament here.

The County tournaments were held January 18-21, 1950. The result of Graettinger game:

Graettinger 33 Ayrshire 44

Mallard girls won this tournament.

The Sectional tournament was held from January 31 to February 4, 1950. The result of the Graettinger games:

Graettinger 42	Lone Rock	26
Graettinger 27	Gruver	32
Graettinger 43	Rodman	23

Gruver went on to the district.

We won the first game of the season on our home floor against Ringsted, and the last game of the season on Rodmans floor.

Vocal Music

This year has been a busy one as far as music is concerned.

The boys' and girls' glee club went to Ayrshire, Iowa, on February 15, 1950, for the Vocal Music Festival which was held under the direction of Miss Delinda Roggensack from Cornell College, Mt. Vernon, Iowa.

The Glee Club received a first rating at the pre-state contest at Arnolds Park and a second rating at the state contest in Storm Lake.

The preliminary contest for the small groups was held at Britt, Iowa. The ratings were as follows: Shirley Rasmussen I, Patsy Masters I, girls' trio consisting of Delores Jespersen, Patsy Masters, and Gwen McWilliams I, girls' sextet consisting of Delores Jespersen, Patsy Masters, Jo Ann Flannegan, Mary Bonnie Cole, Gwen McWilliams, and Catherine Elsenbast I, Helen Baumgartner II, Delores Jespersen II, Jack Platter II, Maynard Holland II, Nancy Doyle III, and Jane Wolfe III.

Those who got firsts in the preliminary contest went on to the pre-state contest at Storm Lake. Those ratings were as follows: Shirley Rasmussen II, Patsy Masters II, girls' sextet II, and girls trio II.

Triple Trio

Band

The Graettinger School Band was quite depleted in certain sections due to the graduation of twelve students in May 1949. Many eager young students joined this year so our membership was kept at forty. To start the year the band appeared in uniform at the annual Labor Day celebration.

Gwen McWilliams auditioned and was selected as a member of the all state band which played at the K.R.N.T. teachter in Des Moines, November 26th.

They had planned for a winter concert in December, but had to cancel it because Mr. Jones was ill. On April 12th, an instrumental music concert was given in the high school auditorium. The band played a series of numbers and contest soloists and small ensembles were also featured.

Graettinger was the host to the Palo Alto County Band Festival, February 9, 1950. Mr. Myran Russel of I.S.T.C. conducted the two hundred and twenty-five piece band and the ninety piece all county band. These groups presented a program that evening in the auditorium.

The band has accepted an invitation to attend the North Iowa Band Festival in Mason City on June 13th. Gwen McWilliams was selected as our representative in the Miss North Iowa Queen Contest. Mr. Jones put in many hours teaching the band the art of marching in preparation for this event and also for our coming football games.

The preliminary contest of the Iowa High School Music Association series was held at Britt, Iowa, April 1. The solo and small group entries and ratings were as follows: Division I rating---Clarinet solo, Gwen McWilliams; Alto Sax solo, Ione Bonstead; Baritone Euphonium solo, Jean Fodge; Snare Drum solo, Larry Kirkegaard; Clarinet Trio, Gwen McWilliams, Marianna Spies, Jonne Shiley, Joan Elsenbast; Division II---Cornet Trio, Ingvert Appel, Dick Wikert, Irene Heidecker; Drum Ensemble, Mary Lou Thompson, Ronnie Robinson, Larry Kirkegaard, Roger Henningsen.

The preliminary contest for large groups was held at Arnolds Park, April 15th. The Graettinger concert band, competed with twelve other class "C" bands and received a Division II rating.

All students that received superior ratings from the preliminary contest went to Storm Lake April 21st and 22nd to compete in the district contest. The ratings were as follows: Division I--Clarinet solo, Gwen McWilliams; Clarinet trio and Clarinet Quartet: Division II--Alto sax solo, Ione Bonstead; Baritone Euphonium solo, Jean Fodge; Snare Drum solo, Larry Kirkegaard.

The final state contest for solos and small groups was held at Perry on May 6th. Gwen McWilliams received a Division II on her clarinet solo and the Clarinet Trio a division II; the Clarinet Quartet received a Division II.

As a final reward for their work during the year all students who qualified and earned the honor were presented with a Band "G", Class night May 22, 1950.

Jack: "Well, what is the difference between the northern Eskimos and the southern Eskimos?"
Bob: "The northern Eskimos say: 'Glug, glug! The southern Eskimos say: 'Glug, glug, you all!'"

Miss Shannon: "Jim, why have you put quotation marks on this paper?"
Jim: "Courtesy to the girl on my left."

	Joyce Marley

Tessy Vashki, who loves her Iowa home town, is about to marry Ozzy Fredrick, Chicago glamour lad. The Vashki household buzzes with wedding preparations, a pair of vociferous twins, a tuba playing kid brother, and of all things, bees.

The bees belong to Johnny Jones, ex-marine, who has moved next door while Tessy was away at college. A sector of his apiary swarms the Vashki chimney, and as Tessy is about to kiss her fiance, one of the bees stings her right on the lip. Indignant, Tessy telephones the ex-marine to give him a piece of her mind.

Johnny arrives to render first aid, and recalling a remedy used on him as a boy by his mother, he surprises Tessy by treating her bee sting with a kiss. Tessy and Johnny are hitting it off famously when Ozzy returns to find the ex-marine administering a second treatment by way of osculation.

Discovering that Tessy, whom he has fallen for, is engaged, Johnny assists with the wedding rehearsal. He goes in quest of a minister, but returns without benefit of clergy. He merely asks at the door of each minister if there was anybody who would like to subscribe to "Esquire" magazine and they told him no.

The wedding is further complicated by the discovery that Ozzy's aunt is unscrupulously trying to force Johnny Jones out of business. Tessy, outraged at this unfair treatment of an ex-marine, is ready to interfere when Dixie, a honeysuckle from the Deep South, arrives asking for her Johnny. She claims she is his wife, At this, Tessy is a tempest. Johnny Jones will play her for a sucker, will he? All right, She'll marry Ozzy at once.

They are at the "I do" stage in the ceremony, when Johnny, with a large, flappy beeman's hat and mask, jumps out of the fireplace yelling for everyone to run for cover--the bees are loose.

The final round involves a boxing bout, the fire department, and the return of Dixie to discover she has her Johnny Joneses mixed up.

In a Kaleidoscopic finish that is the epitome of the skilled play craft, Johnny gets Tessy, Ozzy gets one of the twins he's been sweet on all along, and the bees get smoked out, along with everyone else.

Senior Play "Pride and Prejudice"

This romantic comedy in three acts was presented two nights by the Senior Class on May 10th and 11th in the auditorium.

Characters:

Mr. Bennet, an easygoing man	Avery Bonstead
Mrs. Bennet, his flighty wife	Shirley Rasmussen
Jane, their gentle daughter	Betty Westergard
Elizabeth, their independent daughter	Mavis Knutsen
Mary, their bookish daughter	Catherine King
Catherine, their fretful daughter	Catherine Elsenbast
Lydia, their flirtatious daughter	Janet Marxen
Mr. Collins, a pompous young clergyman	Fredrick Wilken
Mr. Bingley, a proud young man	Norris Rierson
Miss Bingley, his haughty sister	Gwen McWilliams
Mr. Darcy, a haughty young man	Maynard Holland
Lady Catherine De Bourgh, his overbearing aunt	Donna Jean Flannegan
Lady Lucas, a neighbor	LaDon Zitterich
Charlotte, her plain daughter	Joan Christianson
Mr. Wickham, a young officer	Richard Jensen
Hill, a maid	Ione Tonderum

There are five daughters to marry off! Was ever a mother as put upon as Mrs. Bennet? Jane, the sweet tempered beauty of the family is not apt to prove a problem. Flirtatious Lydia elopes with a penniless, but handsome, young officer. But Elizabeth is so critical that her good looks hardly count. When her clergyman cousin comes to court her, she brushes him off without a second glance. Mama is frantic! Then Jane falls deeply in love with the wealthy Mr. Bingley, and it looks as if an affair is possible between Elizabeth and Mr. Bingley's friend, Mr. Darcy. But Mr. Darcy is a proud young man, and is shocked by Mama's vulgar attempts at matchmaking. He not only whisks himself off to London, but takes Mr. Bingley with him--before he is ensnared. Jane is heartbroken, and pines away until she becomes ill. Elizabeth is enraged that such an injustice should be done dear, sweet Jane. And then Mr. Darcy comes back to propose to Elizabeth "against his better judgment". She promptly tells him "No!" and berates him for taking Mr. Bingley away and breaking Jane's heart. But the deep attraction between Elizabeth and Darcy triumphs over the pride of one and the prejudice of the other and both couples are re-united. Mrs. Bennet is delighted! Three daughters married! Now she can concentrate on her other two daughters.
